2 - Operation of LAF

What procedures (e.g. expense claims, new applications, monitoring of Huddle etc) do you follow that help you work effectively? Are these effective?

Recruitment - Each spring Lincolnshire County Council commences a recruitment drive to attract new LAF members. The County Council uses a variety of methods to contact target groups including the County Council's quarterly newspaper, the County Council website and by contacting target groups directly. All recruitment details including person specification and the LAF application form are displayed on the countryside section of the County Council website. Limited effectiveness.

Huddle - Members show only limited interest in Huddle. Limited Effective Meeting minutes - Agendas and minutes are distributed through the Secretary. Minutes are also available on the County Council's Democratic Services Committee Records system. Effective.

Travel Expenses - Members claim travel expenses using the County Council's members expense system. Effective.

Advertising meetings - Meetings are advertised to members of the public on the countryside section of the County Council website. Ineffective.

How do you ensure that your members are able to work as a team?

The Chairman guides the forum members through the agenda at each meeting. In addition the forum operates a number of working groups to examine various issues in greater detail.

In what ways do you reach consensus?

The Chairman asks the forum members to vote on particular issues where appropriate.

How do you ensure proper conduct and/or resolve any conflicts? Through the Chairman.

Give up to 3 examples of where you have encountered operational difficulties (e.g. lack of resources); explain what mechanisms could be put in place to alleviate such issues:

1 - Public Engagement – Despite being open to the public, meetings are rarely attended by members of the public. The forum needs to engage with the public more effectively.

8 - Final comments from Appointing Authority:

From the appointing authorities perspective the Forum is highly valued and is seen as an important asset in the management of countryside access.

There has been an increase in activity from the forum's sub groups during the last year. The disabled access sub group has produced an 'Access for All' pack aimed at disabled users and families with pushchairs. It is unlikely that either County Council would have been in a position to produce such leaflets without the assistance of the LAF.

The County Farms sub group has been examining the current provision of access on Lincolnshire's County Farms estate and the potential for providing further access. The involvement of LAF members in this type of project will become increasingly important in the coming years as resources become limited.

The South Lincolnshire & Rutland LAF covers a wide geographical area. The forum rotates meeting around it's area to reduce the amount of travelling by some members and also to make the meetings more accessible to the public. However, the distances involved in travelling to meetings can be a barrier for members attending meetings, especially in the winter months when the weather conditions can be inclement.

9 - Final comments from LAF Chair:

It has been a positive year for the Forum. Meetings have proven invaluable in strengthening working relationships with the appointing authorities, Natural England and other bodies.

The past year has seen a great deal of activity from the forum's sub groups. The disabled access sub group has been working enthusiastically on the production of an 'Access for All' pack aimed at disabled users and families with pushchairs. I am sure that when the leaflets will provide a useful resource for countryside users in the coming years. The County Farms sub group has been examining the current provision of access on Lincolnshire's County Farms estate and the potential for providing further access. Whilst no additional routes have been created so far, this is considered to be an important area of work for members to be involved in.

Looking forward, 2014/15 promises to be a busy year. We will continue to work closely with both our local authorities and the LAF will also be involved in the development of the next Rights of Way Improvement Plans for both Lincolnshire and Rutland. These will be extremely important documents, shaping countryside access and service delivery in the challenging years ahead.
